BRITTEN Billy Budd

Set on board the "Indomitable" during the French wars of 1797, Benjamin Britten's grandest opera tells the story of the innocent and beloved Billy who is wrongfully accused and ultimately destroyed by the envy and hatred of John Claggart, the Master-at-Arms. This battle between good and evil is watched impotently by the one person who could save Billy, Captain Vere. A stellar cast led by Roderick Williams, John Tomlinson and Mark Padmore, conducted by Ryan Wigglesworth, make this a truly unmissable event.
